

Last Chance for RAGBRAI® Food Vendors

Deadline to Apply is TODAY, June 15

Food is one of the highlights for many of those riding RAGBRAI, and Algona still needs more vendors to make sure the riders are well fed when they get to town! You can help be part of this important effort by signing up today.

Algona's honorary co-chairs, Anne Kohlhaas and LeRoy Strohmman, both have many fond memories of their edible experiences.

She and her team pick one type of food and eat it all across the state, says Anne. One year it was sweet corn. Another year, pie. LeRoy always makes a point to stop at Mr. Pork Chop's during the ride. Both praise the meals many of the town's churches put on.

Riders like LeRoy and Anne are relying on us as a community to have plenty of good food available for them after their long day's ride.

Today is your last chance to be a part of it - sign up to be a food vendor at Algona RAGBRAI on July 24! Visit the food and vendors page on our website, <http://www.algonaragbrai.org/food--vendors.html>, for more information and forms before the extended deadline of today, June 15.
